I connect with the Angels and ask them for messages. They will give you messages they feel are beneficial for you to receive at this place and time. You may immediately recognize the guidance they are providing for you, or it may be in the near future. The information provided is given as a tool to assist you. The Angels provide information through love for your highest good. The information received can range from your personal or professional life to hobbies, interests, family, friends. I have a large variety of Angel Cards, and include utilizing this tool during your reading.
